• Artist

Ji Yongho(b.1978) graduated from Hongik University's Department of Sculpture (2005) and obtained a Master's degree in Fine Art from New York University Graduate School (2008). He made his debut on the art scene using unfamiliar material, tires. With the concept of 'mutants', he tried to express the reality in which the truth has been distorted by fundamental human selfishness or desire, such as genetic engineering and environmental pollution. Currently, he is producing 'Hybrid Mutants' and 'Color Mutants' series by overcoming the physical limitations of sculpture through 3D modeling techniques. Through these series, he can overcome the limitations of the 'Tire Mutant' series and enable him to express his thoughts.

• Explanation

Iron David is a hybrid mutant of authentic sculpture and character. The traditional sculpture and the contemporary character, Marvel's Iron Man, are combined into one work. David, produced by Michelangelo, expresses the solemn determination and tension of the warrior ahead of the battle. David's body composition provides stability through the Contrapposto posture, and Iron Man also shows stability by placing the center of gravity on one foot in the same posture. Iron Man, like David, shows a firm determination to be ready before going to war.
