• Artist

Chung Suejin (b.1969) graduated from the Department of Painting at Hongik University (1992) and obtained a master's degree from the School of Art Institute of Chicago (1995). She is currently working under an exclusive contract with the LEE EUGEN Gallery. Chung Suejin's work looks like a figurative painting composed of vivid colors and details, but if you look closely, many unrelated images are constructed in a non-narrative manner. Formative elements such as dots, lines, faces, shapes, and colors create multi-layered abstract paintings. Artist said "Everything I draw is an image of a combination of color and shape. What I have to do is to unfold the combination. In fact, I am fascinated by the combination of color and shape that each form has. My work may feel more abstract because I work with only visual images."

• Explanation

Touching Moments in Macau is one of the works that shows the characteristics of the artist's work. By composing numerous unrelated images such as a man in a suit sitting on a tree, and people performing in the same clothes in a narrative-free way, she creates a multi-layered painting.
